Hold Onto Your Seats - 2014 Will be a Ride

Today is the first day of full Obamacare implementation, but thankfully it’s been a colossal disaster. The president and Democrats planned to be celebrating today, but the nation is in an uproar over millions of cancelled insurance policies and inflated prices for coverage, as well as the threat of identity theft on the healthcare.gov website. Democrats are solely responsible for Obamacare and now in a panic over how it could impact the election.

Hold onto your seats. It’s going to be a wild but interesting ride all the way to the election. And make sure you refuse to enroll in Obamacare. It’s an effective means to put Obama’s exchanges out of business -- and to stop Obamacare for good.
