VA Misled Congress About Patient Waits

The Veterans Affairs Inspector General says the VA misled Congress after a whistleblower claimed 40 VA patients died while on a waiting list. In December, a separate audit found some requests for medical consultations remained open for years. Some requests were simply closed to meet artificial VA deadlines.

The VA closed 1.7 million consultation requests since 2012 without knowing whether the patients had actually received any consultation or services before the cases were closed. Amazingly, the VA told the Inspector General they can close cases over five years old without reviewing them. Now imagine all health care being under the federal government. It’s time to repeal Obamacare.
