Don't Fix (Expand) Obamacare

Yesterday I said Republicans are nervous about the political fallout of a likely win in the Supreme Court. Nearly 5 million people who should never have had taxpayer-funded premium subsidies for Obamacare would lose them because the law only allows them through a state-based exchange, not the federal exchange.

Liberals are pushing Republicans to expand the law by legalizing the illegal subsidies. But this plays into Obama’s hand. It expands Obamacare, it legitimizes illegal behavior, it makes repeal more difficult, and it imposes the Obamacare employer and individual mandates on people in the 37 states who should be exempt because they have no state-based exchange subsidies. Republicans should repeal the law, not expand it.
