Sticker Shock Coming

When discussing Obamacare premiums, the phrase, “sticker shock” is popping up everywhere. HMO lobbyists mentioned it twice at a panel discussion. Politico reports, “If you work for a small business, your next health insurance premium may give you sticker shock.” And recently, The Wall Street Journal had an article labeled, “Obamacare’s Health-Insurance Sticker Shock.”

Last week, a Forbes columnist wrote, “A California insurance broker, who sells health plans to individuals and small businesses, told me that she’s prepping her clients for a sticker shock. Her local carriers are hinting to her that premiums may triple this fall.” So what will you do? Will you pay or will you go uninsured?
