The Feds Fund Deadly Research

Researchers have used federal tax dollars to make the deadly bird flu virus transmissible through the air. Bird flu has killed hundreds of millions of birds but to date only 600 humans with hands-on contact with poultry have gotten sick.

But now scientists have created a mutation to enable bird flu to be caught by sneezes. Note: 60 percent of people infected with bird flu die. Federal officials are so worried they've asked scientific journals to withhold research details to protect us from bioterrorism.

So, the same government that is trying to limit our salt intake to protect our health is funding research that can kill us all? Who's the terrorist?
