IPAB is Anti-Constitutional #1

IPAB, the Independent Payment Advisory Board in Obamacare is not only unconstitutional, it is anti-constitutional. Because IPAB is exempt from the Federal Administrative Procedures Act, it need not hold hearings, take testimony, or get public input. IPAB is also allowed to bypass the President and submit its legislative proposals directly to Congress.

When these 15 unelected officials submit a proposal to Congress, it automatically becomes law. It must be implemented without any votes taken. Thus IPAB is outside the Executive, Legislative and Judicial branches of government. Listen next week for more on the anti-constitutional IPAB.
