Countering Obama's SOTU

Let’s discuss President Obama’s State of the Union address. He said Medicare needs only modest reforms but it needs bold reforms. Medicare has an unsustainable $38 trillion unfunded liability, which is more than twice our national debt. In his reform, doctors would be paid based on quality. This is a euphemism for rationing.

He also said Obamacare has slowed the growth of health care costs. But the law has 20 new taxes we’ll all pay directly or indirectly. Insurance premiums are about to skyrocket even with $800 billion in taxpayer subsidies to soften the sticker shock. And the $900 billion law is now expected to cost $2.6 trillion.
