March 7, 2017

Repeal Every Word

Donald Trump said he would “repeal and replace Obamacare.” But in case you missed it he wants to keep the Obamacare provision that guarantees everyone access to insurance, even if you have a pre-existing condition.

That’s not insurance. At the federal level, it’s the underpinning of single-payer. Forcing insurers to cover people with current medical conditions means there’s no such thing as insurance anymore. Now it’s government-mandated third-party financing.

Insurance is for financial risk, not a known certainty. When Obamacare eliminated State high-risk pools for people with pre-existing conditions, they came to the exchange and premiums skyrocketed. Let’s send health care back to the states and repeal every word of Obamacare.