Who is Responsible for Obamacare?

Who is responsible for Obamacare? The Wall Street Journal has an interesting take on the question. They blame the U.S. Department of Justice. A report that was released yesterday found that federal attorneys prosecuting the late Senator Ted Stevens of Alaska hid evidence that would have corroborated his defense and damaged the government’s key witnesses against him.

The feds won conviction on ethics charges against the Senator less than two weeks before the 2008 Election. Stevens lost the race to a Democrat, who subsequently went on to vote for Obamacare. The feds tried to suppress the 500-page report, but the judge refused saying Steven’s loss tipped the balance of power in the U.S. Senate. Yes, and in favor of Obamacare.
