Mile-High Stack of Obamacare Regs

If you're subscribed to our weekly eNews, you've seen the photo of the mile-high stack of Obamacare regulations. If you haven't, just go to our home page and ask us to send it to you. So what exactly is a regulation, you might wonder. If a law is vague or general, regulations are written to define how laws must be obeyed.

For instance, if a law says citizens must have red mailboxes, regulations would define the color red, tell you how often to paint it and detail its enforcement. Regulations have the full force and effect of law even though they are written by unelected bureaucrats and never voted on by Congress. Ninety percent of our federal laws are regulations.

Presented daily by Twila Brase, President, Citizens' Council for Health Freedom.

The Health Freedom Minute is now heard in 37 states: Mornings M-Th at AM1280 (The Patriot) in MN and 91.5 AM WHKC (FreedomFM) in OH, afternoons on American Family Radio, and daily on the Bott Radio Network.
