April 17, 2014

Sorry, You Can't Go to That Hospital

More than two-thirds of silver Obamacare plans have limited the number of hospitals available to enrollees. One expert says just like everyone can’t afford 50-inch flat screen TVs, everyone “can’t afford to buy coverage to go to every hospital.” But another expert says people who aren’t sick today will experience a “rude awakening” when they get sick and realize they can’t see the doctor they want.

In New Hampshire, ten of the state’s 26 hospitals have been excluded from Obamacare coverage. One patient with cancer has to travel an hour over the mountains for care even though there is a hospital just minutes from her home. Welcome to Obamacare.
