Electronic Health Records Enable Fraud

Due to a federal law, electronic health records, or EHRs, are being forced on most patients. Congress let providers opt out with a penalty, but Minnesota mandates all doctors to use the expensive and intrusive EHRs. To help us fight for a state exemption for small clinics, sign our petition online at www.cchfreedom.org.

Now we learn criminals are committing fraud by manipulating EHR data. The feds just put a man in prison for 155 months for falsifying patient records. Meanwhile the medical records are now inaccurate, potentially exposing patients to harm. So why did Congress just enact a law to force EHRs to link data together?
