The Easy Way to Repeal the ACA

Senator Mitch McConnell has a plan to repeal Obamacare. When the Supreme Court ruled the mandate a tax, he knew a tax is subject to the budget reconciliation process, exempt from filibuster and only needs a simple majority vote for repeal. He also needs a Republican Senate and a Republican president.

It was McConnell who got his entire caucus to vote no on Obamacare. He held unheard of weekly meetings for 10 months before the vote. He has now accumulated all 19,842 pages of Obamacare regulations into a seven foot stack. He's committed to repeal. It may seem impossible, but look for repeal in 2017.
