The Obamacare HMO Scam

The 1973 HMO Act dangerously merged the delivery and financing of health care. It also established a massive wealth transfer to managed care corporations. But HMOs, now called health plans, are not insurers. True insurance is inexpensive coverage that protects against major disasters. Health plans offered coverage for every little bill. So premiums were high.

Now under Obamacare, health plans are the only option and the premiums are even higher and so are the deductibles. In short, health plans have morphed from pricy HMO coverage to pricy catastrophic insurance that has you paying sky-high premiums and the full cost of most medical bills. No wonder health plans supported Obamacare.
