Are ACA and Obamacare the Same?

Do you prefer the Affordable Care Act or Obamacare? A recent survey of nearly 1900 adults found 35 percent of Americans do not know that Obamacare and the Affordable Care Act are the same. On the other hand, 72 percent of Republicans do know they are different names for the same law.

This confusion was first made public when Jimmy Kimmel did on-the-street interviews with people in 2013. People who disliked Obamacare liked the Affordable Care Act. His video is funny, but the confusion is a problem.

That’s not the only confusion. Only 47% of Republicans know that Medicaid expansion and premium subsidies will disappear under repeal. Hopefully, listeners to this program are better informed.
