Stopping Obamacare in its Tracks

If President Trump and Congress want to stop Obamacare in its tracks, there’s a way. Just shut down the cost-sharing reduction subsidies that help people pay for deductibles and copayments. That’s right. While you struggle to pay insurance premiums and your mortgage, your taxes are paying for other people’s premiums and their deductibles and their co-pays.

Trying to keep the cost of Obamacare low, Democrats never provided funding for these subsidies, but Obama paid them anyway. The GOP House sued and won. Obama appealed. Now Trump can drop the appeal, stop the $7 billion in yearly subsidies and watch Obamacare come tumbling down. Tell Trump to end the cost-sharing subsidies now.
