Congressman Price Has a Plan for After SCOTUS Ruling

Congressman Tom Price introduced the Medical Freedom Act to help mitigate the impact of a Supreme Court ruling against premium subsidies through the federal exchange. His press release says the bill will equip states with “freedom and flexibility to ensure” access to “health plans, health savings accounts and other arrangements” currently restricted under Obamacare.

Congressman Price recently made it clear that he opposes extending Obamacare subsidies if the Court rules against the federal exchange issuing them. That’s the right position to take. Any extension of the subsidies is an expansion of Obamacare, which only allows subsidies to be issued from state-based exchanges.
