Obamacare Application Foolery

President Obama boasts that the derided 21-page Obamacare Exchange application is now just 3 pages. Who’s he fooling? The 3-page application is only for workers without health insurance and its now in smaller type. The 21-page application, which was for families, is now 11 pages but it leaves out 8 pages that were for listing additional family members and asks applicants to make their own copies of those pages if needed. The 61-page online application form is still in draft form.

So, the application is still long, and still complex but now it’s in smaller print and you have to make your own pages. Nothing to boast about Mr. President.
