June 14, 2012

Take Me Out of Obamacare

A new poll by The New York Times says two-thirds of Americans want all or part of Obamacare repealed. Great idea! The Court’s ruling is imminent. So on this American Flag Day, let’s have a little fun. I came up with words to a very recognizable American baseball song to help the Supreme Court justices make the right decision. I’m not going to sing it but you’ll figure it out. Here goes:

“Take me out of Obamacare. Take me out of its grip. Give me a ruling that’s quick and sweet. I don’t need it all fancy and neat. We must fight, fight, fight for our country! If we don’t win, we will lose. So it’s three, four, five votes it’s gone. Hear Obama sing the blues.”

Copyright © 2012 “Take Me Out of Obamacare,” Original words by Twila Brase.