Why Premiums Will Skyrocket

Due to Obamacare, premiums will increase 25 to 190 percent. That’s because premiums must now cover the cost of those who are uninsurable…and the richer set of benefits Obamacare requires you to buy. Premiums must also be higher because high deductibles are forbidden.

And because Obamacare sets a limit on administrative expenses, health plans must increase insurance premiums so 15 to 20 percent of the premium is high enough to cover all administrative costs. There are also fees to participate in government exchanges and new taxes on insurers, drugs and medical devices. So how has Obamacare reduced health care spending?
