Last Day to Tell Them to Withdraw Rule

It’s the last day you can tell the federal government to withdraw the rule that forces physicians to become government doctors. The proposed 962-page rule requires physicians to do what the government wants them to do instead of what patients need. If they don’t do the government’s bidding or if they don’t report it in detail electronically, including data from all patient medical records, they will be financially penalized.

To date, less than 1,300 people have told the Feds what they think. Have you? Today’s the last day to tell them to withdraw this terrible rule. Go to cchfreedom.org and oppose this regulation. Make your voice heard now if you want freedom. Go to cchfreedom.org. That’s cchfreedom.org
