New Tax Proposed for Insurer Bailout

The Obama administration proposes a new Obamacare tax. To cover insurer’s losses for taking on sicker Obamacare enrollees, they planned to siphon dollars from other funds. But the Congressional Research Services recently released a memo questioning the legality of such a maneuver.

Then last week a federal official testified that if they can’t get the money the way they planned to get the money, they would impose user fees on all health insurers to cover the losses experienced by Obamacare plans. This is a new tax and it means higher premiums for everyone. Tell Congress what you think about paying higher premiums to help the Obama administration and complicit insurers get out of the mess they’re in.
