Governor Scott Takes Action to Prevent Health Plans From Ripping Off Floridians

Some health plans have brazenly refused to follow Medicaid law in Florida. Now GOP Governor Rick Scott has threatened immediate corrective actions for any who refuse to comply. Here’s the problem. Florida limits how much health plans can pay hospitals. Now some plans admit to paying more while others refuse to open their contracts for inspection. Governor Scott told his administration: “Let’s never forget that all Medicaid payments are paid for by the taxpayers of our state.”

The governor is not only enforcing the law, he’s also preventing the plans from coming to the legislature claiming they need more money from taxpayers because they paid the hospitals too much. Good for Governor Scott!
