Obamacare Architect Unfiltered

The administration recently argued before two federal courts that Congress intended all Obamacare exchanges to provide premium tax credit subsidies. So the IRS is giving them to millions even though the law allows only state exchanges to offer them.

But now there a videotape of the architect of Obamacare, Jonathan Gruber, saying only state-based exchanges can offer subsidies. He says, “If you’re a state and you don’t set up an exchange, that means your citizens don’t get their tax credits.” This he calls a “blatant enough political reality” and says “billions of dollars” are at stake. It sounds clear enough to me. No state exchange. No subsidies. Just like the law says.
