Howard Dean is Right

Howard Dean, former chairman of the Democratic National Committee, is unhappy with a key part of Obamacare. In a commentary published by The Wall Street Journal, he applauds the law, but he calls the Independent Payment Advisory Board “a health-care rationing body.”

He says “setting doctor reimbursement rates for Medicare and determining which procedures and drugs will be covered and at what price” will allow the Board to stop certain treatments from ever taking place. He wants the Board repealed because he says it’ll make medicine more bureacratic. True, but the whole law does that. Maybe the fact that Mr. Dean and his wife are physicians has something to do with his pointed aggravation.
