Howard Dean's Rant Against IPAB

In Howard Dean’s Wall Street Journal rant against Obamacare’s rationing board he says the board will cause patients and doctors to “get aggravated because bureaucrats in either the private or public sector are making medical decisions without knowing the patients.”

This is true, but Republicans and Democrats have been dragging health care into government bureaucracy since Medicare was enacted in 1965. Medicare is an insolvent single-payer system for seniors. It’s a rationing trap. Patient and doctor freedom means both must leave Medicare and Medicaid, and refuse to enroll in the Obamacare exchange. That’s the only protection against government-imposed rationing.
