Why Choose Affordable Catastrophic Coverage?

I’m a fan of catastrophe-only health insurance. Here’s why. If insurance has to deal with every claim, it’s expensive. And if the money doesn’t come from your pocket, you don’t care about the cost. When you don’t care, costs rise. If you suddenly do care, like the people paying cash for a $600 twin-set of EpiPens, prices change.

Most would choose a catastrophe-only insurance if paying for it on their own. This would change the entire pricing structure of medical care. Prices would drop without all the bureaucracy. And you would be a cash-paying, cost-conscious customer. On this Wedge of Freedom Wednesday, start the journey back to affordable care by finding an affordable cash-based practice at JointheWedge.com.
