Obamacare Failure #3 Verification

Today I'll talk about Obamacare implementation failure number three. This is the failure to verify the individual’s income and their access to employer sponsored insurance. Both verifications are required by law for government exchange coverage. In addition, if an individual has access to affordable insurance, they cannot enroll in government exchange coverage.

Nor can they receive taxpayer-funded premium subsidies. But because the employer mandate and reporting are delayed until 2015, the government cannot verify anything. So they say they’ll use the honor system. Expect fraud. This is how Obama plans to stuff the government exchanges with as many people as possible.
