Christie Straight-Talkin' Entitlements

The Republican convention is over. If you didn’t hear it, the speech by New Jersey Governor Chris Christie might surprise you. Christie is known for his pointed comments and he did not disappoint last Tuesday. He aimed squarely at Medicare. He said Republicans would tell seniors “the truth about our overburdened entitlements.”

He said seniors want these programs around for their grandchildren and claimed that, “Seniors are not selfish.” He also said that the other side of the political aisle is more than happy to “Whistle a happy tune while driving us off the fiscal cliff as long as they are behind the wheel of power when we fall.” Great speech. You can read it online.