State Rep. Matt Dean
Chair, Health and Human Services Finance Committee

Will there be a Special Session?

What has government been doing that contributed to the disruption of the health insurance market? What new options are being considered right now, and what can be done at the Minnesota state level to make health insurance more affordable?

Mary Krinkle
Vice President of Government
Relations—Minnesota Hospital
Association

Why does healthcare cost so much?

What are the various cost drivers that have driven up health insurance premiums? What are the current trends confronting employers? What can providers do about these high costs?

Greg Dattilo, CEBS
CEO, Dattilo Consulting, Inc.

Co-author of four books on health-care, and four decades consulting for employers on insurance strategies.

What strategies can be used to reduce the cost of insurance?

Given the actions by government and the insurance companies, and the cost of healthcare, what can small business owners do to control and reduce the cost of health insurance?

Twila Brase, RN, PHN
President: Citizens Council for
Health Freedom (CCHF)

National speaker concerning health freedom for all, working to protect individual patient's rights.

The Wedge of Health Freedom

Doctors and patients breaking free of third party restraints to manage individual healthcare. Helping individuals find affordable physicians who see patients as the focus of their practice.
