Six Large Problems with ObamaCare - Part One

Welcome to the Health Freedom Minute. This is Twila Brase president of Citizens’ Council on Health Care.

Today, I’ll talk more about last Friday’s roundtable discussion with John Goodman. The six biggest problems with ObamaCare, according to John are:

Number 1, the law mandates that we buy health insurance which will grow at twice the rate of our income.

Number 2, there’s a bizarre, essentially unfair, system of subsidies with some getting $19,000 and others getting only tax breaks.

Number 3, the Health Insurance Exchange has perverse incentives to overprovide to the healthy and underprovide to the sick.

Let me add another concern about the Exchange. Last July, economist Stephen Parente told a state health reform committee that the Exchange is “the single largest threat to state sovereignty.”

Stay tuned for problems four through six tomorrow.
