Dead from No Healthcare

Welcome to the Health Freedom Minute. This is Twila Brase, president of Citizens’ Council for Health Freedom.

Last week this newsflash came across my desk, “Today, in cities and states across the United States, 123 people died because they lacked enough money to buy healthcare services. That brings the annual death toll for 2010 to 41,082.”

The writer is a community organizer for National Nurses United.

She writes, “The 123 who died today did so with the full knowledge of all who allowed their deaths. The 123 who died today might have lived if they had access to appropriate healthcare. The 123 who died got no mention on any news program or website – liberal, conservative or otherwise.”

Perhaps, that’s because this is a bogus claim. There are no death certificates listing “no healthcare” as cause of death.
