Don’t Fix the CLASS Act

Welcome to the Health Freedom Minute. This is Twila Brase, president of Citizens’ Council for Health Freedom.

Dick Armey says fixing Obamacare risks increasing its popularity. That’s why the Community Living Assistance Services and Supports Act within Obamacare - the CLASS Act – shouldn’t be fixed. Sen. Kent Conrad called it, “a Ponzi scheme of the first order, the kind of thing that Bernie Madoff would have been proud of.”

President Obama now wants to fix the CLASS Act.

The Act will provide cash payments for non-medical services to qualifying enrollees after at least five years of payments. A payment of up to $240 per month will be automatically deducted from your wages, unless you opt out.

Mr. Obama’s debt commission said the CLASS Act should be reformed or repealed, but the President wants $93.5 million to market it nationwide.
