March 17, 2011

250,000 Pages of Obamacare Rules

Welcome to the Health Freedom Minute. This is Twila Brase, president of Citizens' Council for Health Freedom.

The Obamacare law is 2,700 pages long. That’s a lot of paper. But that’s not all. One state official told me the National Governor’s Association thinks there will be another 250,000 pages of Obamacare rules. Rules have the full force and effect of law.

What does this mean? This means that less than one-tenth of Obamacare will have been voted on by members of Congress. And most of them didn’t read the bill. The remaining nine-tenths of the law will be written by unelected bureaucrats sitting in Washington, D.C. offices far from you and your doctor.

Those who fail to comply with the law or the rules can be charged with fraud. This means there are at least 250,000 more reasons to repeal Obamacare.

Sign up for the Health Freedom Watch at healthfreedomminute.net.