Coming Health Disparities Civil Rights Violation

Welcome to the Health Freedom Minute. This is Twila Brase, president of Citizens’ Council for Health Freedom.

A new federal report supports racial profiling in the exam room under the banner of reducing “health disparities.” It’s called the National Stakeholder Strategy for Achieving Health Equity.

They want to collect data to eliminate health disparities. What is a “health disparity”? Proponents cite health disparities by race, ethnicity, socioeconomic status, gender, literacy level, sexual orientation, disability status, geography, and age.

Imagine the government bureaucracy that could be built on trying to make our health and health care equal across all dimensions of life. Now imagine the civil rights lawsuits that could be filed when government data collectors label certain doctors as racist or sexist or homophobic.

Health disparities has nothing to do with health care and everything to do with national health care.
