“Waiver-Central” is Sued

Welcome to the Health Freedom Minute. This is Twila Brase, president of Citizens’ Council for Health Freedom.

“Waiver-Central” is my new name for the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, often called HHS for short. “Waiver-Central” has now been sued.

HHS has issued 1,168 waivers under Obamacare. Companies, individuals and health plans with waivers are exempt from key spending and coverage requirements of the law. Labor unions and labor union health plans have received a majority of these waivers.

A company founded by Karl Rove, has sued HHS because the agency has refused to respond to its requests for information. He wants to know why some of the waiver requests were granted and others denied.

So tell me…do you think the agency’s choices have anything to do with the 2012 elections? Let me know at healthfreedomminute.net
