The Government that Cried Wolf

Welcome to the Health Freedom Minute. This is Twila Brase president of Citizens’ Council on Health Care.

We now know the swine flu was a government fiasco.

First, the Associated Press reports that the federal government spent $1.6 billion to manufacture and distribute the vaccine, but it has no idea where it went. They kept few records.

Second, the Feds purchased 229 million doses of the swine flu vaccine, less than half were given, leaving 138 million doses unused. Most will be thrown away…along with the taxpayer dollars that paid for them.

The World Health Organization which issued the pandemic alert last summer now admits they didn’t really know what they were doing.

Federal officials still claim they did a good job even though they cried wolf, wasted taxpayer dollars, and have no idea where the vaccine went.

Imagine them running the health care system you depend on!
