Insurers’ Dream Come True

Welcome to the Health Freedom Minute. This is Twila Brase president of Citizens’ Council on Health Care.

Consider the relationship between the Obama administration and health insurers.

On March 4th, HHS Secretary Sebelius met with the Big Five insurers to chastise them about raising premiums. Last Thursday, she had them over for lunch.

Politico says the lunch could be awkward for the administration. “They feel they need to send the public a message that they’re holding the companies accountable. But what’s going to happen in 2014 when the administration tells the public to buy coverage from an industry they’ve been bashing for four years?”

The bashing is pure smoke screen. Sebelius, Obama and the five CEOs are in an alliance. ObamaCare is their dream come true.
