Health Care Disparities Ruse

Welcome to the Health Freedom Minute. This is Twila Brase president of Citizens’ Council on Health Care.

Health officials are trying to impose a one-size fits all health care system under the guise of eliminating health care disparities.

Every year a national report is issued. Health officials want treatments and outcomes to be equitable across races, socioeconomic levels, ethnicity, genders, etc. If not, they claim that doctors could be violating patient rights.

This dismisses the natural disparities that exist between patients and between doctors. We are all different. In fact, without disparity there can be no growth, no change, no discoveries.

Doctors must now report data on the ethnicity, race, and language of their patients to the government. Doctors are also being pressured into following one-size fits all treatment protocols. Are lawsuits over civil rights next?
