He Was Right

Welcome to the Health Freedom Minute. This is Twila Brase president of Citizens' Council on Health Care.

Doctor Donald Quinlan came to the United States from Ireland after working ten years in England. He never took a dime from Medicare and he kept the U.S. Constitution in his pocket.

As President of the American Association of Physicians and Surgeons, he testified against a 1974 Medicare bill saying,

Basically, the law will require that medical care be standardized for Medicare and Medicaid patients. Patients and their doctors will be forced to comply with a system of pre-set standards of medical diagnosis, treatment and care. Patients and their attending doctors will be denied the right to decide what is best for patients. It is a bad law. It is planned to have massive detailed computerized files on patients and doctors.

Well, it's 2010 and he was right.
