August 31, 2010

Intrusive Prevention & Wellness Initiatives in ObamaCare

Welcome to the Health Freedom Minute. This is Twila Brase president of Citizens’ Council on Health Care.

Prepare for unprecedented intrusion in your life and lifestyle.

Kathleen Sebelius, U.S. Secretary of Health and Human Services co-authored an article last week in the New England Journal of Medicine. It’s called “Promoting Prevention through the Affordable Care Act.”¹

The article starts off by saying “Too many people in our country are not reaching their full potential for health because of preventable conditions.” So she says there’s a national need for health promotion.

A chart included with the article lists 28 sections of ObamaCare that promote prevention.² There are councils, national strategies, grants, and new wellness visits. There’s also surveillance and reporting requirements.

Are you ready for the Big Brother that’s coming through the prevention and wellness door?

Find this broadcast at healthfreedomminute.net

² http://healthpolicyandreform.nejm.org/?attachment_id=12254