Where to Find Ivermectin

Ivermectin is still hard to find because most doctors will no longer prescribe it. Government bureaucrats are still on a search and destroy mission against any doctor who offers it to patients.

Ivermectin is still necessary for Covid. This safe drug along with supplements, aspirin, vitamins, and other prescribed medications, are helping the millions of Americans injured by the Covid shot and those suffering from post-Covid symptoms, often caused by lack of timely treatment with ivermectin and its anti-viral, anti-inflammatory, and anti-clotting properties.

Many Americans still order ivermectin from overseas where it doesn't need a prescription. But now many Americans are finding it in compounding pharmacies or in Tennessee, because ivermectin is prescription-free in Tennessee.
