Biden Goes on Regulatory Rampage

Health care regulations have been flying out of the Biden administration like hot cakes. It's a regulatory rampage. Fearing a Trump White House, Biden is putting a far-Left agenda in place, rule by rule. The regulations focus on abortion, the transgender issue, and more.

The administration is racing against a legal clock. The Congressional Review Act lets lawmakers nullify rules if they've been completed during the final 60 legislative days of 2024. So, Biden is trying to get them done before the lookback period begins. As a result, more rules were issued in April than in any month since 1981. Where there's a will, there's a way to undo them. It'll be up to the next administration to have that will and find that way.
