Find an Affordable Independent Doctor

On X, formerly Twitter, Dr. Rob Rosborough described his practice in Silverton, Oregon.

He stopped taking health insurance, opted out of Medicare, and opened a cash-based direct primary care, or DPC, practice. He charges his patients $80 per month, which includes unlimited office visits and his cell phone number for after-hours care.

He sells generic drugs at wholesale costs and labs at a 90 percent discount. Radiology costs are 80 percent less than if insurance is used. He says he has more income than ever. He says it's amazing what happens when the middleman is eliminated. What kind of doctor you want? Go to JointheWedge.com to find medical freedom with an independent doctor.
