Avoid Young, Indoctrinated Surgeons

The practice of medicine in America is “in disarray and definitely in decline” Dr. Richard Bosshardt told Tucker Carlson. He told stories of surgeons who made it all the way through five years of a surgical residency and could not do surgery safely.

He blames DEI indoctrination, a reduction in the standard of excellence, the lowering of grade requirements to pass medical exams, the federal rule that forbids residents and medical students from working more than 80 hours a week, and doctors that refuse to give surgical cases to residents because it slows everything up.

If it's not clear, a surgeon who is not competent to do surgery is a danger to the patient. He told Tucker that he tells people: “Don't go to a surgeon or doctor under 40 because they've been indoctrinated.”
