Digital Record Mandate Endangers Us All

An Iranian group hacked into a global medical device company, impacting hospitals. The hackers erased all the data from more than 200,000 systems, servers, and mobile devices. Democrat U.S. Senator Gary Peters blamed President Trump's war in Iran and funding cuts to federal cybersecurity programs.

This is not where the blame belongs. President Obama and Democrats forced every doctor and hospital to adopt a computerized medical record system -- and to hook them together. Before 2014, only 10% of hospitals had electronic health records and they were not connected. The mandate was a data grab for profit and control of doctors. By continuing to mandate these online data systems, Congress endangers us all.
