The Obamacare Theft

The Affordable Care Act added a .9 percent tax on wages above $200,000 and a 3.8 percent tax on investment income for high earners. It added taxes on drugs and reduced the deduction for medical bills. You're paying for $92 billion in 2025 premium tax credits, and for Obamacare subsidies and the expansion of Medicaid.

Individual premiums increased an average of 47% as Obamacare rolled out and for the typical enrollee another 129% over the next 12 years while employer-sponsored coverage increased just 68 percent. Democrat Senator Max Baucus said the ACA corrected the maldistribution of income in America. Think of this theft as you pay your taxes.

“Obamacare Plan Premiums Have Increased Nearly 2x Faster than Employer-Based Premiums Since 2014,” Mark Howell and Brian Blase, Paragon Institute, November 5, 2025:
