Say No to “Ambient Listening” in Exam Room

Congress is the reason doctors are disappearing. The burdensome and unethical mandates to buy and use a government electronic health record and report boatloads of patient data—or not get paid—came from Congress, both sides.

Congress took doctors away from the bedside, focused doctors on computers instead of patient care, and claimed your data as public property shared without consent through vast health data systems.

Now, Congress and the industry think AI is the answer to burned out doctors and nurse. They are putting recording devices in exam rooms without patient consent so doctors can be hands-free and look patients in the eye. Some clinics don't even ask patients. Be brave. Say no to AMBIENT LISTENING. Get our one-pager and door hanger for your next doctor's appointment.
