Canadian Surgeons Can Operate Just 6 Hours a Week!

The founder of Timely Medical Alternatives in Canada shared shocking statistics at our recent fundraising gala. He said five million, 800 thousand are now on surgical waitlists and due to lack of funding, emergency rooms in small towns close on weekends.

One client is on an 85-week wait just to consult with an orthopedic surgeon. One orthopedic surgeon has 400 patients on his waiting list, 200 categorized as urgent. The wait is because orthopedic surgeons are only allowed to operate six hours per week.

He says 94,000 Canadians have been put to death under its Medical Aid in Dying (MAID) program since 2016. So, if you can't handle the wait, you can be killed.
