Socialism Rating Tops 40% for First Time

Forty-three percent of Americans have a positive view of socialism, says Gallup. Since 2010, positive impressions of socialism have risen seven percent while positive views of capitalism have fallen by six percent. While most positive ratings come from Democrats, independent's positive impressions rose from 37% last year to 45% this year.

Now that Obamacare, enacted in 2010, has made care and coverage unaffordable, Americans may think government is the only answer. But as Ronald Reagan once said: "The nine most terrifying words in the English language are: I'm from the Government, and I'm here to help." Socialism is not the answer, in health care or anywhere.

"Socialism's Positive Rating Tops 40% for First Time," Lydia Saad, Gallup, September 23, 2026:
